

PREVIEW

Boulders Taller Than the Great Tower of Seville

García López de Cárdenas

Summary This narrative tells about the first time that Europeans come to the Grand Canyon. The author describes the canyon's vast size, difficult landscape, and cold weather. He explains what happens when his group tries to explore the canyon.

Note-taking

Use this diagram to record details about the author's experiences.

